

"My message to you is, be courageous. I have lived a long time. I have seen history repeat itself again and again. I have seen many depressions and wars. Always America has come out stronger and more prosperous. Be as brave as your fathers before you. Have faith. Go forward."

Me, the Class of 1947, dedicate this book to

Thomas A. Edison

who, as a boy, had an insatiable thirst for knowledge . . .

EDISON AT FOURTEEN

who, as a man, gave us the many conveniences that we consider commonplace.

His life is proof that in America a humble beginning is no deterrent to success.

Supt. Paul V. Brown and the daughter of Thomas Alva Edison, Mrs. Madelaine Edison Sloane, taken in the living room of the Edison birthplace, Milan, Ohio, on February 11, 1947, during the 100th Anniversary celebration.

Milan, Ohio February 11, 1947

To the Students of Tiffin Columbian High School:

I have been asked by your superintendent, Mr. Paul V. Brown, to send to you my greetings from Milan, Ohio, on this, the 100th anniversary of the birth of my father, Thomas Alva Edison.

I am happy to do this, especially since I have been told of the theme of your 1947 yearbook. It is nice to know that you are using Thomas A. Edison as such a theme.

My very best wishes to you from this, the birthplace of my father. As he lived a life of service to his fellowmen, I am wishing for you something of the same ideal. May you remember that doing for others is what counts most in life, after all.

Thank you for this opportunity to greet you, and I send you my every good wish.

Madeleine Edison Dloane,

Edison's Home

A tiny, red-brick cottage on the edge of a broad, wooded ravine at Milan, Ohio, has taken its place among the historic shrines which commemorate great Americans. It is the 100-year-old birthplace of Thomas Alva Edison, the Ohio genius who invented the electric light, the phonograph, the moving and talking picture, and many other marvels we take for granted today.

Thirty acres of adjacent ravine, through which runs the Huron River, have been purchased by Mrs. Edison and will in time become a memorial park to her husband, who died in 1931 at the age of 84. The land is pastoral and quiet today, but 100 years ago it rang with pounding and sawing, for Milan then was the second largest grain port in the world, with six shipyards and sixteen grain warehouses along a canal teeming with trade. Imports and exports totaled more than $1,500,000 a year.

Here the boy Edison lived the first seven years of his life, before his family moved to Port Huron, Michigan. Through the century, the old home, occupied by relatives, underwent many changes. Eighteen months ago Mrs. Edison commissioned an old friend of the family to restore the birthplace. Soon the only modern traces will be the electric lights and the oil furnace.

Our Home

The earliest classes to be graduated from Tiffin High School, those from 1859 to 1868, held their commencement programs in the high-school room on the third floor of Monroe Street School. At that time the women teachers received $30 a month salary, while the salary of the men was $35, and the superintendent received $100.

The Monroe building continued to be the seat of secondary learning until 1893 when the Columbian High School building was completed at a cost of $75,000. The school name was selected because of the World's Columbian Exposition held in Chicago that year. General W. H. Gibson was the orator of the day when the cornerstone was laid. Tiffin at that time had 10,801 inhabitants.

Commencement exercises were held in National Hall from 1869 to 1907, when they were transferred to the Grand Theater. After the erection of Junior High School in 1924, programs of the graduating classes were held in that auditorium, with a seating capacity of 1200.

An addition to the Columbian building was completed in 1933. The Columbian auditorium, with a seating capacity of 650, is the scene of present commencement activities. The alumni roster of Tiffin High School has 4,610 names.

Edison Chronology

- 1847 February 11—Born at Milan, Ohio, son of Samuel and Nancy Elliott Edison.
- 1868 Patented first invention, the electrical vote recorder.
- 1875 November 22—Discovered electrical phenomenon which he called "etheric force," later recognized as due to electric waves in free space; is foundation of wireless.
- 1876 April—Moved to laboratory at Menlo Park, his first laboratory for organized research.
- 1877 August 12-Invented phonograph.
- 1879 Invented first practical incandescent electric lamp. Invention perfected October 21, 1879, when lamp maintained incandescence for forty hours.

- 1891 Applied for patent on motion-picture camera.
- 1896 Experimented with X-ray. Developed fluoroscope, dedicated to public domain.
- 1896 May 16-Applied for patent on first fluorescent electric lamp.
- 1914 Patented miner's electric safety lantern.
- 1928 October 20-Presented with Congressional Medal
- 1931 October 18-Died at Llewellyn Park, West Orange, N. J., at the age of 84, survived by his wife Mina Miller Edison, four sons, and two daughters.

Record 1. Light for All

Thomas Edison holds his first lamp in one hand as he stands beside a giant electric bulb.

We are likely to think of Edison first as the inventor of electric light. It is true that 356 of the 1,097 patents issued to him dealt with electric lighting and power distribution.

His inventions in the field of communications have done more to abolish ignorance than those of any other man.

Moreover, Edison did more to abolish poverty than any group of persons since the beginning of the world.

Administration and Faculty

Today the modern fluorescent light occupies the center of the stage.

A few years ago the writer had the extremely rare privilege of having an informal interview with Mr. Thomas A. Edison at his winter home and estate along the Caloosahatchee River at Fort Meyers, Florida. Along with a group of Tiffin people wintering in Florida, we stopped at the Edison home and were first conducted through the groves and the horticultural gardens, after which we were introduced to Mr. Edison in his laboratory. Being from Ohio, we were warmly welcomed and together enjoyed an informal chat for nearly a half-hour. At the time of our visit, Mr. Edison was working on the development of rubber from the gum of some native Florida trees.

We found Mr. Edison to be a delightful conversationalist, a keen thinker and observer, and a man of pleasing personality, having a keen sense of humor. The half-hour spent with Mr. Edison I consider to be one of the high lights of a lifetime.

Clarence W. Lutz

The Board of Education

Earl Knapp, Earl Kern, clerk-treasurer, C. A. Riggs, president, Wm. McKinney, vice president, Harry W. Frick, Francis E. Kuhn

We present herewith the members of the Board of Education of the Tiffin City School District. The five members are elected by the people to carry on the business of the schools. They, in turn, employ a clerk-treasurer, and the administrative, teaching, custodial, and other staff members.

Members of the Board of Education serve without pay. Meeting are held regularly on the third Monday of each month at 7:30 P.M., plus any called or special meetings which may be needed.

School finance, maintenance, employment of personnel, purchase of equipment, school legislation, community needs, educational progress and development, and a host of other matters come under the study and jurisdiction of this hard-working body of public servants.

We salute them!

It is a pleasure to greet you who are students of Columbian High School in this Thomas Edison edition of the Blue and Gold. For each of you I wish a bright and happy future.

One way to insure such a future is to emulate the devotion to improving the lot of his fellowmen which this great inventor, Thomas Edison, manifested throughout his long and useful lifetime. Make life easier for your fellows, and, strangely enough, your own ease and happiness will follow as a rich and valuable dividend.

Paul N. Brown

Superintendent of Schools

The fullness of life which we enjoy so much has been made possible by our benefactors. Of these, Thomas A. Edison is one of the greatest. He is our slave. He is at our service morning, noon, and night; at home and abroad; in the field and in the factory; on land and sea; in the air and in the depths. His presence is thrust upon us at every turn. May we humbly recognize and honor his presence.

Record 2. The Birth of the Incandescent Lamp

The artist here shows Edison testing the first practical incandescent bulb—a filament of carbonized cotton thread in a glass bulb. As Edison watched it burn for forty hours, he concluded he could make a lamp that would last a hundred hours.

To his success, and that of the scientists who followed him, we owe the lamps of today.

Columbian Students

As a boy and as a man, Edison had a broad curiosity, a deep desire to find the answers to the mysteries of science. As a result, he invented electric devices, motion pictures, the phonograph, and hundreds of other aids to modern living.

Among the many students, past and present, of Columbian High School, there surely must be some individual who will go far in the field of science, due to his endless curiosity.

We, as seniors, have reached our ultimate goal—graduataion, but we are reluctant to surrender the sceptre; yet we must, that others may prepare themselves for the future. When we have departed, we will cherish the memories of our fellow students and the teachers at Columbian.

We have finished our course, and in doing so each has obtained recognition in his own particular manner—some by becoming leaders and officers in the various school organizations, others by high scholastic ratings, and others in the field of athletics.

All through our three years here we anticipated the senior party, the junior-senior prom, our baccalaureate service, and commencement—all of which most certainly lived up to our expectations.

We have all gained the priceless jewel of friendship. We go out from our alma mater wealthy with friends and armed to make a place in the world, hoping to be as happy and successful as we have been at Columbian.

Record 3. Edison's Favorite Invention

Although no musician himself, Edison did more than the greatest artists to bring music into our lives. Few illustrations of the democratizing effect of invention are better than music for everyone, as given us by phonograph, radio, and movie.

Edison's 'talking machine' was his most original and favorite invention. Here he poses with his first model and his 'business phonograph,' one of its later refinements.

Activities

Edison once remarked, "Say, I have been mixed up in a whole lot of things, haven't I?"

As his interests were varied, so are the activities of pupils in high school today.

Every person benefits by participation in the extracurricular activities of the school. Abilities are developed; new interests are promoted; friendships are strengthened.

However, a proper balance must be maintained between time spent in classroom work and that spent in outside activities, so that a well-rounded life may result.

Library Staff

The librarians of Columbian High School are those senior girls who are interested in library work and willing to devote one free period each day to those pupils who enjoy good reading material. Our duties are to check book in and out, keep the library in order, and help other students with reference work. Meetings are called by Pat Toepper, who is chairman of the group. Our advisor is Miss Herron.

Clad all in white this year, the Columbian Cheerleaders, urged on by the "spirit of 1947," boosted our colors and provided successful leadership for the cheering at pep assemblies and games.

During the course of the year new cheers were introduced at cheer rallies, adding more pep and enthusiasm to Columbian High School spirit.

The cheerleaders this year included: Rita Turner, head cheerleader, Sally Siegrist, Junior Eikenbary, Robert Kirchner, Phyllis Might, Jane Egbert, and Marilyn Stone. Those who were chosen to carry on our work are Doris Boneham, Sue Wyndham, Leona Shuff, Mary Dillon, Sam Brown, and Lawrence Ruhlen.

Record 4. Edison und Steinmetz

No inventor is independent of the work of others. This was true in regard to the relationship between Edison and Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz. The two met when Edison visited the Schenectady works of the General Electric Company. At that time Dr. Steinmetz was experimenting with his lightning generator. Upon seeing the machine, Edison became interested, and he and Dr. Steinmetz worked together on the machine. The remainder of their lives was spent collaborating in the fields of science and mathematics.

Athletics

Teamwork is one of the most important factors in sports today. With good team spirit, a willingness to work hard, and a desire to play fairly and squarely, we work toward a definite goal.

This is true not only with sports but also with everyday life.

Football

Coach Seele gave his all so that others could enjoy the wonderful game of football. He taught the team how to win games. Good sportsmanship, the will to carry on when the going gets tough, quick thinking, and good habits are only a few of the good traits that the members of the team acquired through the untiring efforts of the coach. In the future these lessons will be of great value. The team appreciates all that the coach did for them.

Football

Nick's untiring efforts night after night helping to form a team as well as character of the players goes unrewarded. He did much to raise the spirit of the team when the going seemed tough. The physical fitness of the team came only through the able leadership of Mr. Mazzaferro. The team looks up to him as one who is a swell guy and a builder of character.

BONFORD TALBERT

Bon, co-captain of the team, never failed to put the ball where it was needed. He was rewarded for his fine playing by being elected All-Buckeye center, and he received honorable mention in the state.

JAMES HILBORN

Big Jim was a stellar tackle who had a tendency to break up opposition plays and throw them for a loss. He was honored with third-team All-Buckeye

BILL BROWN

Bill was an all-around fullback. Whenever a first down or a punt laid in coffin corner was needed, it was Bill who came through. He was elected coholder of "most valuable player," and he placed on the All-Buckeye second team.

ROBERT BRIAN

Bob's tricky running and good defensive work was a great help to the team this year. The tougher the going, the harder this aggressive halfback fought.

JAMES MILLER

Jim's fast running and passing helped much to put the pig skin into pay dirt. For his fine spirit and stellar playing he was elected co-holder of "most valuable player" and All-Buckeye third halfback.

MILTON McKILLIP

"Pete," a tough and rough tackle, stopped many enemy plays cold. He was elected co-captain of the team. His stellar playing won him honors of second-team All-Buckeye tackle.

ROGER HULTHEN

"Buzzy" proved that good things come in small packages; catching passes for long gains was his speciality. He was a small but mighty end.

GLEN RITZENTHALER

Glen's speed and broken-field running could not be duplicated. The team suffered a great loss when Glen was injured early in the season and spent the remainder of the season on the side lines.

RAYMOND STAHL

Ray, a quick thinker with lots of speed, was a great help to the team as guard. He was the fifth man in the opponents' backfield.

MAURICE LENZ

Morry was a powerhouse at fullback with weight to back him up. Only a junior, he will be the spark plug of next year's team.

BILL HARNISCHFEGER

Harney, the biggest man on the team, gave the team much valuable help at tackle. His fine spirit was a great help.

JAMES ELCHERT

Jim's fast charge and bag of tricks was always a headache to the enemy. This guard opened up many holes through the defenses' line.

JEAN RILEY

Jean spear-headed many line plays as blocking back. His strong Irish spirit carried the team through many a tight spot.

GILBERT BINTZ

"Zeke," with a low, fast charge, broke up many line plays. His determination and love for the game was an asset to him at guard.

ROBERT HILL

"Speedy" stopped many end-around plays. His six-feet-plus made him a threat to the enemy at end. He lives up to his nickname.

RICHARD TURNEY

Dick proved valuable at guard despite many handicaps from injuries. His courage and spirit made him one of the toughest players on the team.

PAUL HARRISON

Paul gave the team much support with his fast ball running. You will hear much of him next year.

Basketball

Coach Burkett taught the team not only how to play basketball but also good sportsmanship, quick-thinking, and many other good characteristics. The season this year was not one of the best, but it was no fault of the coach. The team will never forget what the coach did for them.

Standing—Coach Burkett, Wayne Moore, Roger Hulthen, Bon Talbert, Jean Riley, Bob Hollar, Clarence Kahler, manager
Seated—Tom Company, Bob Wall, Glen Bare, Ray Stahl, Paul Harrison

RESERVES

Standing—Robin Turner, Gene Schmidutz, Duane Moore, LaMar Magers, Ralph Hershberger, Howard Crum, Jack Burrier
Seated—Fred Johnston, Ted Spidel, Bob Hollar, Tom Company, Paul Harrison, Joe Smith

TOM COMPANY

Tom, only a junior, gave the team much support. His shooting, guarding, and ball handling improved with every game. Next year Tom will be one of the leading players on the team.

PAUL HARRISON

Paul, a junior, was a fast ball handler. His good defensive work and untiring efforts were a great help to the team. Keep your eyes on Paul; next year you will see many points racked up by him.

JEAN RILEY

"Pat," a senior, was a player as well as a good-natured Irishman. His determination and good defensive work proved a great asset to the team. He never let down.

ROGER HULTHEN

"Buzz," a senior, was very alert and fast. What he lacked in size he made up in speed. Being the spark plug of the team, he was elected captain. Also he received the honor of being elected to the All-Buckeye third team.

WAYNE MOORE

"Shorty," a senior, was a fast and tricky player. His alert playing and good spirit helped the team through many a tough spot. What he lacked in height, he made up in good playing.

RAYMOND STAHL

Ray, a senior, was one of the hardest workers on the team. He was an allaround good player but especially good on rebounds. Ray's good sportsmanship and untiring efforts were a great aid to the team.

GLEN BARE

Glen, a junior, was the tallest man on the team. He used his height to good advantage. His valuable backboard work led to many points. Next year he will be a valuable man to the team as he was this year.

BONFORD TALBERT

Bon, a senior, could always be counted on to rack up points. As a defensive player he was one of the best. Bon more than earned the honor of being elected on the All-Buckeye second team.

BOB WALL

"Buck," a senior, was a good ball handler and a good defensive player. His one-handed long shot helped make the score rise. Buck's love for the game and good ball handling were a great help to the team.

CLARENCE KAHLER Manager

Track

The track season of 1947 opened with sessions in the gym. In these sessions conditioning was stressed with calisthenics, rope climbing, and much running. Skull sessions were held, when the coach taught the fundamentals of the different events. After two weeks in the gym the weather moderated, and it was possible to hold practice at the stadium.

The track team this year should have a good season since it is about the same team that Columbian had last year. With much experience in such promising track stars as Hill, last year's captain, Ritzenthaler, a dash man, Brian, a hurdler, Moore and Riley, pole vaulters, and Talbert and Morrison, fine runners, this year's team will give any team a tough time. Due to the fact that this book goes to press before meets are held, it is impossible to give track-meet scores.

Girls' Gym

The girls' gym activities are well directed by our teacher, Miss Haberman. Besides giving us a thorough knowledge and practice in many games such as volley-ball, baseball, and deck tennis, she has set a fine example of skill and sportsmanship for each of us to follow. Our thanks to her!

MARILYN STONE

A group of sophomore and junior girls was chosen to represent Columbian at the annual Buckeye League Playday on May 3rd at Fremont. Mary Dillon was the entrant for ping pong singles; Marilyn Stone, swimming; Leona Shuff, tennis; Geraldine Greer and Eileen Wheeler, badminton doubles; Doris Lindsay and Kathryn Payne, bowling. In addition to these events, volleyball, deck tennis and relay races were enjoyed. At noon a luncheon was served by the Fremont G. A. A. in the school cafeteria.

This playday gives each girl a chance to become acquainted with representatives from the other four schools and also provides an opportunity for competition, as a point system is used in determining the winners for the day.

Badminton

The very first activity of the year in the sophomore gym classes was badminton, and the season ended with an elimination tournament which was played on class time and after school. The final winner was a doubles team composed of Geraldine Greer and Eileen Wheeler, who proved to be a very clever team. Geraldine was especially adept at drop shots and many times drew her opponents out of a position which resulted in a hard, fast shot to the floor. Eileen improved her high volleys as the season progressed, and together they made a team worth noting. On the night of the Columbian-Findlay basketball game, these two girls were matched with two boys from the sophomore class, the games being played during the half of the varsity game. The winners, of course, was the girls' team.

Basketball

Just after Thanksgiving vacation the basketball season started in the regular gym classes. Few of the girls had played basketball previously, and great enthusiasm was created for the activity. In a noon, round-robin tournament a team captained by Sue Wyndham was declared winner. Sue was also high-point player, with Mary Dillon close behind her. Captains of other teams were changed frequently in order to give each girl an opportunity to play all places.

Record 5. Edison's First Laboratory

When twelve years of age, Edison went to work as a candy butcher and newsboy on a Grand Trunk Railroad train running between Port Huron, Michigan, and Detroit. In the baggage car of this train, he set up a small chemical laboratory and also a printing press, on which he printed his own newspaper.

Junior High

In March the manual-training classes at Junior High School built miniature cars and sponsored midget automobile races. The greatest speed attained was eighty-five miles per hour.

This project is one of the many which are preparing young boys and girls for careers in the fields of science.

Record &. Optimism and Humor

It seems very fitting to have a picture showing the features of Edison's face at the beginning of our features section. Even though Mr. Edison spent long hours in study and scientific research, he still had time to enjoy the lighter side of life.

Teatures

Our features section is a conglomerate of various types of material—some facts, some humor, some original writings.

The pictures on this page are of the cheerleaders at the junior-senior basketball game. The three persons above are Marilyn Stone, Phyllis Might, and Jane Egbert. Those below are Rita Turner, Harvey Eikenbary, and Sally Siegrist. A stamp commemorating the one-hundredth anniversary of the birthday of Thomas Alva Edison was put on sale at Milan, Ohio, February 11, 1947. The stamp is the regulation size with a picture of Edison and a rectangular panel with a monogram of a cogwheel, uplifted wings, and lightning flash as symbols of power, flight, and electricity. Millions of requests were received at Milan for cancellation of the stamp on the first day of issue.

Tiffin has one of the finest examples of early Edisoniana, in the chandelier which has illuminated the main auditorium of St. Paul's Methodist Church since 1885. The church was one of the first buildings in the country to be wired for electricity.

The chandelier was a gift to the church from Mr. Edison and the stockholders of the Tiffin Electric Light Company at the time the church was built. Its present value as a lighting fixture is limited; its value as a relic of the age of Edison, priceless.

MUSIC

Like the sunrise, ending the gloomy night, Music enters our lives, a shaft of light. It plants itself and grows, defying fate; It stays beside us always, excluding hate And bringing peace and fellowship to those Who seek it and in its bowers repose. Music calls us to great deeds, to acts sublime. It stays with us forever, a monument to time. It makes us dream again, think on things fair. Life is worthwhile if there is music there.

JOANNE MITCHELL

THE OBSTINATE SPRING

The Calendar's proclaiming,
In staid and stolid tones,
That spring has long been budding
From out of winter's cones.

But lo, the skies are misty
With either snow or rain.
Old folks still find it risky
Without their trusty cane.

The wind still goes a-roaring
Around the corners, too!
We've lost all hope of storing
Old clothes for others new.

This story happens yearly
To try our patience all,
And when we give up wear'ly,
Dear spring then makes her call!

MARIE COOK

SIGNS OF SPRING

Near the garden gate today,
And the water of the brooklet
O'er the smooth-worn pebbles play?

Did you notice Robin Red-breast As he hurried to and fro, Bringing bits of string and grasses For his little nest, you know?

Snow has melted from the meadow, And no more the season's drear; Nature's 'wakened every creature; Winter's over. Spring is here!

DOROTHY REIF

THOUGHTS AT NIGHT

The sky was blue; the clouds were gray; The night was fast replacing day. I sat and watched the sky grow dark. All Nature, too, there in the park Had seen the exit of the sun With clouds enclosed. The day was done.

The moon arose a silver globe—
The wispy clouds her lucid robe.
Love now did take her evening walk;
The time was past for useless talk;
All birds and beasts were now quite dumb.
Their sleepy chirps
Showed night had come.

Peace now had conquered all the world; Her pure, white flag o'er all unfurled. O would the world forget all spite, Replace all sin with Truth and Right, Men could fore'er their neighbors love And live in peace As those above.

JERRI JENNINGS

SPRING-APRIL, 1947

The gloomy sky
is overcast
with grey.
The wailing wind suggests rain
or snow.
The robin's song
is still and quiet.
Is this spring?

The sunny sky is bright with sunlight.
The searching wind is soft
and balmy.
The robin's song
is shrill
and happy.
In its beauty.

PAT TOEPPER

THE ARTIST

He holds a brush deftly in his hand.
Before him stands an easel with a canvas on it.
At first, bold marks he makes, and then
He tempers them with lighter, softer strokes
And makes a picture of enduring beauty
For all who gaze upon it.

A youth stands in the sunlight. His life is a blank canvas before him Upon which he makes bold strokes Of deeds that lead to fame With a brush called Opportunity. He then softens the picture With love, benevolence, and age And creates a life that rivals The finest oil masterpiece In its beauty.

MAGIC NIGHT

The night is frosty, clear and cold, The heavens are lit up bright, The moon holds mystical powers For this is a magical night.

The snow creaks beneath my feet
As I walk along my way.
A breeze blows gently through the trees
And makes them swing and sway.

The air is sweet, so very sweet;
The night is very soft
The Northern lights streak in the sky
And light the night aloft.

A is for Arbogast; Shar Lynn is her name. B is for Bare; basketball in his game. C is for Columbian, our sequence to success. D is for Dunn-swell gal, nothing less. E is for Egbert; Jack rings her alarm. F is for football that broke Ritzie's arm. G is for Gene; Owen is the rest. II is for Harney, always ready to jest. I is for me, who wrote these nutty lines. I is for Junior, who has many good times. K is for Kate-"Smitty" to you. L is for Lynch, a good guy thru and thru. M is for Moore-Margie and Wayne Lee. N is for Nevin; when he plays the piano, oh gee! O is for Oscar: who ever heard of him? P is for Prudy; always out on a limb. Q is for Quincy, who wants to hear more? R is for Richard who won't open that door. S is for Stahl whose hair is blond and curly. T is for Turney, who always gets in early. U is for us; that includes you and me. V is for Victory—to make us all free. W is for Walter and Wanda Corthell. X is for what name, O pray tell? Y is for Yoder, slim, dark, and tall. Z is for Zimmerman; for her giggle you'll fall. JANE NELSON

FOR FUTURE REFERENCE

Picture yourself when you're getting older,
And the foot is on the other shoe.

Don't say the kids are getting bolder;

Remember, you were young once, too.

Some day when you're a family man, And your children won't listen to you, Don't feel too bad—and if you can, Remember you were young once, too.

If your children get in late some night, And you wonder what you should do, Just laugh it off and say it's all right. Remember you were young once, too.

Don't be too strict; don't preach or shout

If some small matter bothers you.

It's nothing to get excited about.

Remember you were young once, too.

RITA TURNER

IMPROVEMENTS WE DREAM OF AT COLUMBIAN

- -coda fountain in tower room
- -easy chairs in corridors for lovers
- -powder rooms for senior girls
- -"coke" machines instead of drinking fountains
- -escalators instead of steps
- -hamburgers served in 21, sixth period (then "Shorty" Moore won't have to sneak over to the Whitehouse)
- -ping pong, dancing, etc., in gym during "free" periods
- -swimming pool for gym classes
- -more reducing machines and hair dryers in girls' locker room
- -free access to home ec refrigerator
- -school take up at 10:00 A.M.
- -etiquette class for all boys
- -dormitory for sleepyheads
- -no Monday morning classes
- -more pep and school spirit
- -class to teach fellows how to keep hair neat and clean without a lot of "glop" on it
- -girls dress feminine for a change
- -Richard opening the door

Jokes

Boss: "Bob, you have broken more dishes than your salary can pay for. What can be done about it?"

Bob Kirchner: "Oh! I don't know, unless you raise my salary."

Bill Brown: "It says here that teachers are often decorated in France."

Jr. Eikenbary: "I feel like crowning the ones we got."

Jim Elchert: "Mr. Bailey, what do you advise me to read after graduating?" Mr. Bailey: "The help-wanted column."

Miss Herron: "Merlyn, what is a synonym?"
Merlyn Ranker: "It's a word you use in place of another when you can't spell the other one."

Mr. Bailey: "Hulthen, what does HNO3 signify?" Roger Hulthen: "Well, ah, er'r, I've got it right on the tip of my tongue, sir."
Mr. Bailey: "You better spit it out; it's nitric acid."

Bob Brian (looking at his grade card): "Well, I'm as famous as Washington now." Marilyn Mohler: "How do you figure that?" Bob Brian: "I went down in history."

Mr. Lutz: "You can't sleep in my class." Robert Strecker: "If you wouldn't talk so loud, I could."

Miss Herron: "Nobody ever heard of a sentence without a predicate." Jim Hilborn: "I have." Miss H.: "What was it?" J. Hilborn: "60 days."

Harry Marriott: "She sure gave you a dirty look."
Arthur Lynch: "Who?"
Harry Marriott: "Mother Nature."

Duane Mohr: "I don't feel well; I can't go to class today."
Robin Turner: "Where don't you feel well?"
D. Mohr: "In class."

Freshman: "Please, mama, let me go out tonight."
Sophomore: "May I go out tonight? The show is over at ten."
Junior: "I'm going out tonight, Dad."
Senior: "Good night, folks; I'll bring in the milk."

History student:
Roses are red, violets are blue,
I copied your answer, and I flunked too.

POEM

iwish i wuz a kangeroo i wish i wuz a clock i wish i wuz the orchid stripe in sumwin's sky blue sock

i wish i wuz a purple pig with pokadotted trimming

i wish i wuz a zooloo gal i wish i wuz in swimming

i wish i wuz a mutton legg or just a leg of lamb ide gladly bee most anything but this dumb thing i am

Mr. Mazzaferro: "What does versatile mean?"
Marysue Menke: "Isn't that where they signed a treaty?"

Miss Herron: "Please correct this sentence, Harry: Girls is naturally better looking than boys." Harry Marriott: "Girls is artificially better looking than boys."

A student with chemistry on the brain once wrote:
O, MLE what XTC
I always feel when UIC.
I used to rave about LN'S eyes,
4 KT, 2, and LNR
I was a keen competitor,
But each now's a non-NTT,
4 UXL them all, UC.

Two pigeons were discussing a third pigeon. One said, "Have you noticed that he's peopletoed?"

Marion Musser: "I am writing a book about part of my life."

Miss Herron: "Part of your life? What part are you leaving out?"

M. Musser: "The part I haven't lived yet."

Jon Abbott: "Have you and your teacher ever had any difference of opinion?" Jim Elchert: "Yes, but she doesn't know anything about it."

Mr. Daniel: "Can anyone tell me why King Nebuchadnezzar built the Hanging Gardens?" Charles Clagett: "Probably because his next-door neighbor kept chickens."

Mr. Lutz: "Who was the smartest inventor?"
Jay LeCrone: "Thomas A. Edison. He invented the phonograph so people would stay up all night and use his electric bulbs."

Mr. Bailey: "Now, Johnny, if I lay two eggs here and three eggs over there, how many will there be altogether?" John Pinkerton: "Personally, I don't think you can do it."

Beginner's Luck

She learns her job pleasantly with other beginners just like herself—possibly from her own school. She works in light, airy offices with the latest in equipment. She relaxes in

THE OHIO BELL TELEPHONE CO.

"A Good Place to Work"

She takes home a good-sized weekly paycheck which she knows will increase steadily through scheduled raises. Her supervisors are congenial and understanding. They reached supervisory levels from beginning jobs just like hers. Promotions are made from within the ranks and today's greatly increased traffic has speeded up these promotions.

The telephone beginner strikes it lucky because she has chosen a company which earned its reputation for being "a good place to work".
